SUPERIOR GENERAL OF NOTRE DAME AT REST.

A cablegram from Namur, Belgium, to the College of Notre Dame, San Jose, announced the death of the beloved Mother Marie Aloyse, the Superior General of the Notre Dame. She passed away peacefully last Thursday at the Mother House of the Order after an illness of several months.

The sad news was immediately telephoned to the various Convents of Notre Dame where it was received with profound sorrow. Her visit to Notre Dame Academy in this city, a little over a year ago will ever be remembered by those who met her, for by the sweet magnetism of her unselfish kindness she drew all hearts to her.

She loved California, and the exquisite bronze statue of the Sacred Heart which she had placed on the hills of Saratoga will be a memory of her visit to California.

Her gentle life faithully mirrored the graces of the Divine Heart epitomized in His lesson: "Learn of Me that I am meek and humble of heart."

DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

SAN MATEO, Feb. 28—In line with the recent policy so well exemplified at the meeting of the county committee of the California Development Board held at Los Angeles, at which the necessity for state wide cooperation on matters of coast import and unity of purpose o the part of various communities was emphasized as all important, the boosters have already secured the backing of San Franciscans in matters of general interest to the peninsula.

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution at the request of the Development Association which should prove of weight in the fight that is being made to secure the location of the State highway down the peninsula, backed as it is by the strength of that body and requesting the Highway Commission to begin the construction of the proposed highway at the earliest possible moment. Another resolution bearing upon the railroad fight is also under consideration by the Chamber of Commerce and it is expected that its adoption will come at the next meeting of that body.

At an informal conference held with the various realty dealers, previous to the meeting last Tuesday night, ways and means of furthering the renting of the county's vacant houses were discussed. A number of tenative plans were discussed by those present, including W. A. Brewer, E. A Husing, F. S. Grummon, H C. Tuchsen, Asa Hull and W. J. Martin, during which the Development Association was given full credit for a deal of valuable publicity to the county already secured, it being however, generally agreed that further effort along special lines ought to be made. It is proposed to hold a dinner in the near future, under the auspices of the Development Association at which special effort will be made, with the cooperation of the real estate men, to arrive at a plan of campaign which will mean the filling up of the vacant houses all over the county.

As a result of effort undertaken by the Development Association at the request of the Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce, there is every prospect that the car service of the United Railroads on Third street, in San Francisco will be greatly improved.

Already the headways of the service, following conferences held with the railroad officials have been changed from three to two minutes, the change going into effect last Monday. If the new time schedule does not give the relief desired in this matter, the boosters in cooperation with the Palo Alto residents will tackle the problem from a new angle. One of the tenative plans of solution that has been considered contemplates the installation of a switch on Townsend street, north of Third for the accommodation of cars that would run only between the Southern Pacific depot and Market street.

Stray Shot Comes Close.

W. K. Eletcher, who resides at East Greenwood had a close call from a stray rifle bullet Monday morning. He was examining his automobile preparatory to a ride to this city when he was startled by the crash of the bullet through the glass shield of the machine. Mr. Fletcher did not hear the report of the gun and could not find out from what point the shot was fired. He thinks, however, that it was a stray shot from some careless marksman.

Charles Elmer Upton, the teacher of the San Gregorio grammar school was a Redwood City visitor this week. Mr. Upton, besides being a teacher, is an author of recognized ability. One of his books entitled "Down Wild Goose Canyon," a juvenile story, is highly recommended by the county board of education.

Entertained Her School Class.

Miss Luella Behrens entertained the members of her Sunday school class at a pretty afternoon party on Washington's birthday. A novel amusement was hunintg for hatchets, which were hidden about the rooms. Each hatchet bore a number and to the one successful in gaining the highest score was given a chocolate hatchet gaily decorated with cherries. Delicious refreshments were served in the dining-room, where the table was beautiful with the first spring blossoms and tiny hatchets gave the holiday touch. Miss Behren's guests were: Margaret Kirtland, Marie Merrill, Blanch Ross, Augusta Adams, Gladys Eberle, Ruth Doxsee, Clara Locker, Dorothy Dearborn, Irma Leslie and Martha Jacobsen.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

The man who does not grow wiser and better as he grows older, has no business to be here, and the sooner death catches him out the better for the world.

The whisperer of scandal, or the carrier of gossip, leaves a slimier track than the poisoned reptile—pollutes the fair, beautiful world around with a blast deadlier than the "redhot lipped simoon."

Poverty and riches are after all only relative terms. They are to a large extent figments of the brain—creatures of the imagination. He only is poor who thinks himself so; and no one is truly rich who is not rich in soul.

WE AEE CHANGING.

Redwood City is a place of many changes. It is a town with a past as well as with a future. One by one are passing land marks which were distinguishing features of our municipality in days gone by.

The old grammar school where the youth of our town worshiped at the shrine of Warren, Bates and Hartley is now but a memory. The old courthouse with the blind goddess holding her scales is no more. The Grand Hotel and Prices hotel are no longer known by many of our leading citizens and soon the Old Corner, so long the business place of Claus Hader will be razed to give way to the ruthless advance of progress.

Thursday, Washington's birthday marked the ending of the usefulness of the old town hall on Main street, where for lo these many years the city fathers have performed their civic duties. And so we are getting to be a city with a past for a past in this western country can go back only a little way We have gone our little way and have progressed and may the future Redwood be as good a place to live in as was the old town.

REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

For more than a quarterr of a century this city has enjoyed the convenience of the present merchant messenger service conducted by the accommodating Charles Jacobus. The business was originally established by Captain R. T. Fogg who conducted it until his death, which occurred quite suddenly in San Francisco while he was calling at the postoffice in the pursuit of his business. The taking over of the business by its present conductor is thus noticed in the issue of the Times and Gazette of May 4th, 1889: "Charles A. Jacobus, who is as well known throughout this county as any one man, desires to have his friends know that he will carry on a messenger business similar to that of the late R. T. Fogg, between Redwood City and SanF rancisco and intermediate points. Charlie has been living in Redwood City and Searsville since an early age, and the people know that he can be trusted to perform any duty asked of him. Although there are probably others who will desire to go into the same business, Charley will be apt to knock thew out. He will mak his first trip this morning."

During the early part of the year 1889, Redwood made a material advance in its facilities for fighting fires, securng a fully organized fire department. Early in the year the town trustees recognized the fact that if efficient work was to be expected of its firemen they must be provided with sufficient apparatus and ordered the purchase of a hook and ladder truck and an additional hose cart. That this action was appreciated by their constituents is shown by the fact that it was almost immediately followed by the organization of two additional fire companies.

On May 20th a new hose company was formed to have its headquarters on what wasthen known as F street. The new company selected for itself the name of "Redwood City Hose Company No. 3. The first officers selected for the company were: John F. Ford, foreman;, J. V. Swift, first assistant; J. J. Cloud, Jr., second assistant; George Leary, secretary.

This was followed on the 22d of the same month by the organization of the Redwood City Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, with a membership of about 20 active young men. Dan Mullen was selected as foreman of the new company, with George Whooten as first assistant and A. Genochio as second assistant.

The formal organization of the fire department as an officially recognized adjunct of the municipal government was completed during the same week, when the town council met in conjunction with the delegates from the various fire companies for the purpose of selecting department officers. At this meeting, which was presided over by Chairman Gordon of the Board of Trustees, George W. Lovie was unanimously elected as chief of the fire department, with W. F. Wagner as first assistant and E. L. Fisher, second assistant.

CONVENTION NAMES MUNICIPAL TICKET

Mayor Merrill is Given Strong Endorsement--Salary for Trustees Favored

That the women of Redwood City propose to take a keen interest in municipal politics was made evident at the adjourned meeting of the mass nominating convention held at the city hall last Monday evening. With the assembly hall crowded to it utmost capacity, fully half of those assembled were representatives of the "gentler sex," and the women displayed a keen interest in every stage of the proceedings.

Chairman Landscheit called the meeting to order and the secretary, Mrs. Charles Gunther read the minutes of the previous meeting. Following the approval of the minutes , Mrs. Gunther presented a report of the committee of fifteen appointed to suggest a list of candidates. For trustees the committee presented the names of Dr. N. C. Cummings, George Deleau, Geo. A. Merrill, J. J. Hahir and Dr. G. B Yount. The committee made no selection of a candidate for clerk but instead advised that the names of W. H. Kelso and G. C. Plump, both of whom have announced themselves as candidates for that office, be placed on the ballot. As no one seems to be desirous of contesting with Frank K. Towne for the honor of caring for the city's cash, his name will be the only one placed on the ballot for treasurer.

Chairman Landscheit announced that those recommended by the committee as candidates for trustees would be given an opportunity to make themselves and their views known to the meeting, and called upon Mr. Deleau, who addressed the convention, offering some sound advice as to the conduct of municipal affairs.

Within the next four years, he said, many important things will take place on the peninsula that will be vital to Redwood City, the most notable of which will be the great Panama-Pacific exposition, it therefore devolves upon the people to consider seriously the city's welfare in choosing material for their governing body. Men should be selected who are true, independent, capable, progressive and just; who would consider the welfare of all parts of the city. They should also be conservative men and familiar with handling the city's affairs. If such men are chosen and supported by the people the destiny of Redwood City as queen of the peninsula will be the sooner realized. Speaking for himself Mr. Deleau said that there were no strings attached to him and should he be placed on the ticket as a candidate for the trusteeship he would appeal to only those voters who looked to the future progress of Redwood City.

Mayor Merrill stated that it had been his desire to lay aside the burden which he had borne for the past four years, but that at the earnest solicitations of his colleagues on the council and the urging of friends he had consented to again allow the use of his name. None of the other candidates whose names had been mentioned evinced a desire to make their views known, and Chairman Landscheit announced the appointment of L. A. Heiner, R. F. Chilcott, H. C. Tuchsen and J. W. Farnsworth as tellers and directed them to collect the ballots of the assemblage to decide the selection of three names as candidates for trustees.

After a careful canvass of the ballots cast, the tellers announced the following result of the vote:

George A. Merrill, 98.
George Deleau, 97.
Joseph J. Hahir, 82.
Dr. Cummings, 25.
Dr. Yount, 11.
Scattering, 17.

On motion of Dr. Cummings it was voted as the sense of the meeting that the three candidates receiving the highest votes be declared the nominees of the convention and that their names be placed on the official ballot as such.

Again called upon by Chairman Landscheit, Mayor Merrill thanked the assemblage for the expression of confidence and dwelt at some length on the considerations which impelled him to receed from his expressed determination to retire from office at the close of his present term. One of the chief of these reasons was the yet unfinished state of several important measures undertaken by the present council. Among the most important of these in his estimation was the completion of the plans of the reconstruction of the street lighting system and the final settlement of the rights of this city in the numerous controversys over the railroad right of way through the city. The new lighting system, he said, was now almost completed and within a short time the city would be in a position to make new contracts for electric power for the system which he was confident would result in the city 'securing a much better lighting at a materially reduced cost. In detailing the work of securing a settlement of the lighting system Mr. Merrill paid a high compliment to the work of former Trustee Henry W. Walker, who had assisted him with valuable information. He also told in detail of the struggle to secure from the Southern Pacific a recognition of the rights reserved to the city by the deeds under which their right of way was held. Another, and perhaps the most important problem still pending was the improvement of the County road within the limits of the city, a work which as yet had been but commenced, and one which in the future must involve some material legal problems. In concluding Mr. Merrill again thanked the convention for its strong endorsement of his official action.

At this juncture Mr. Hahir entered the room and was informed by Chairman Landscheit of his selection and introduced to the convention. While Mr. Hahir declined to make a speech, he thanked the convention for the honor conferred and expressed his sympathy with the policies pursued by the members of the present council.

Mr. Deleau returned thanks for the honor conferred and promised that if elected he would endeavor to fill the ideals which he had expressed in his first address.

On motion of Henry Steinberger the thanks of the convention were expressed to the members of the committee which had selcted the names submitted to the meeting.

R. F. Chilcott expressed regret that the committee had not made a recommendation as to the remuneration of trustees and made a motion that the question be submitted to the voters suggesting that the rate of compensation recommended be $25 per month for each trustee. Ted Thompson expressed fear that the sum mentioned might not meet the sanction of the voters and moved that an alternative proposition of $10 per month be also submitted. Roy W. Cloud seconded the suggestion of Mr. Thompson, and on the question being put to a vote it was unanimously decided to submit the two propositions. This completing the business of the convention a final adjournment was taken.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE WILL ASK FOR ENDORSEMENT.

Henry Steinberger who has served this community for several years past as school trustee has announced his intention of again being a candidate for the position. The elec tionwill be held Friday, April 5th.

Durnig a large portion of his time on the school board, Mr. Steinberger has served as district clerk and he has been untiring in his labors to make the Redwood City school one of the best in the State. It is due largely to his progressiveness that our grammar school teaches manual training and domestic science and that special teachers in music and drawing are employed.

The people of Redwood City should show their appreciation of Mr. Steinberger's services by giving him a big vote.

LOW ROUND TRIP RATES EAST FOR THIS SUMMER.

Mr. Chas. S. Fee, passenger traffic manager, Southern Pacific Co., acting as chairman of a committee of the various trans-continental lines entering California, today announces dates for excursions to the East this summer, together with the rates for these excursions. The rates to all important cities, Chicago and west, are based on the one way thirty-day rates, or one fare for the round trip, while rates to points east of Chicago show a slight addition to the one-way rate for the round trip.

All tickets will bear going transit limit of 15 days and will be good returning until October 31st, 1912. Liberal stopovers will be allowed going and returning. While these reduced rates are made primarily for eastern convnetion, tickets may be purchased by anyone. These rates give an excellent opportunity for Eastern people who have located in California to visit their old homes in the East at low cost. Native Sons who know only the West may visit eastern cities and the numerous resorts in the middle west and Atlantic coast. Tickets may be purchased going one way and returning the same or any other route, and at moderate additional cost may travel in one direction via Portland or Seattle and Victoria and northern routes. The limit of tickets for return trip gives plenty of time to make European tours in connection with these tickets.

The dates on which these low rate excursion tickets will be sold are as follows:

To Minneapolis and St. Paul and return, April 25, 26, and 27. Round trip rates $73.50 from any main line points over direct lines.

COUNCIL FIXES DATE FOR VOTE ON NEW BOND ISSUE

People to Decide Question of Public Improvement April 5th.

The question as to whether Redwood City is to continue the policy of public improvement which has prevailed during the past two years is to be submitted to the voters of the cityon the 5th of April. This was the decision arrived at by the trustees at an adjourned meeting of the council held Monday evening, at which all of the members except Trustee Hynding, who was confined to his home by temporary illness, were present.

Dispensing with the reading of the minutes the council went directly at the chief business of the session, which was the consdieration of the ordinance calling for a special election to determine the necessity o an issue of bonds to the amount of $37,000 which had been prepared by City Attorney Mansfield. In order to allow the utmost possible time for registration, the date of the election was fixed for Friday, April 5th, which will allow of registration until March 5th. The ordinance provides for the total amount if the bonds into four separate propositions, divided as follows: For the improvement of the city's portion of streets fronting public parks, $5,000; for street intersections, $20,000; for the purchase of a combined automobile fire truck, $7,000; for improvements and extensions of the street lighting system, $5,000.

Trustee Beeger called attention to the fact that property owners on Phelps street were voluntarily constructing concrete sidewalks and suggested the propriety of the city getting in line and making similar improvements in front of its own property. This was admitted to be the proper thing to do and Superintendent of Streets Dickey was given authority to have a concrete sidewalk constructed along the Phelps street frontage of the corporation yards.

A numerously signed petition was presented asking that street lights be placed on Spruce street between Railroad avenue and Stambaugh street. Pending the result of the bond issue election, one item of which is to provide funds for the extension of the street lighting system, the request was taken under advisement.

President H. C. Tuchsen of the Board of Trade presented a request from the board of trustees that they be allowed the use of rooms in the city hall for its meetings. The request was granted, with the understanding that the Board of Trade pay the janitor for the extra work entailed.

The election for two sanitary trustees takes place on Monday, March 11th. Timothy Hopkins and E. J. Pringle have consented to run. They are both excellent men, well fitted and qualified for the position and will make good officials. The election officers are as follows: Frank Kirkpatrick, inspector; Frank Roach and James R. Doyle, judges. Mr. Kirkpatrick's real estate office has been chosen as the polling place. The terms of Charles N. Felton and John Mac Bain have expired and having filled the office for many years with credit to themselves and to their constituents they feel that some one else should bear the burden.

ANNEXATION DEFEATED IN HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE.

Wednesday evening, before one of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences ever gathered in the high school assembly hall, the question of the annexation of San Mateo county to san Francisco was defeated by the unanimous vote of the judges. At 8:15, Mr. Myers, chairman of the evening introduced the speakers, Roy Woodhams, upholding the affirmative of the question, and Ray Griffin defending the negative. Both students deserve especial commendation for their work, and the debate was one that would have given much information to all the voters of this county.

The nicest point of the negative was the one which completely shattered the affirmative's plan of government under the new system. Mr. Woodhams proposed to divide the combined counties into districts, one to comprise San Francisco, another, the territory between the present county line and Belmont, and the third to the southern boundary line of the county. Each division was to send an equal number of delegates to the ruling body. In rebuttal, Mr. Griffin showed planily the absurdity of such a system."To think," he said, "of the entire city of San Francisco, with its enourmous population, being compared to the district between San Francisco and Belmont, whose population is but a speck of sand compared with that of San Francisco." "To think, that the small population of the latter district would have an equal representation with the great population of San Francisco. It is unreasonable." The judges, Rev. Kirtland, Mr. Mantz andM r. Walker were unanimous in favor of the negative.

After a short intermission, the commercial students presented a farce, "All in a Day's Work." The scene took place in a lawyer's office, showing the humorous side of the business man's life. Special mention must be made of "Barney" Larrecou, who took the part of an office boy, although the entire skit was very funny and the parts excellently rendered. After the play the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

The cast was as follows:

Woodwar, attorney, George Lamb; Bob, his office boy, Bernard Larrecou; Mamie, talkative stenographer, Pearl George; Claire, visiting ditto, A Lorenz; Edythe Walcernon, applicant, C. Carleton; Ruth Stern, first class stenographer, J. Stott; Tom, outside office boy, A. Carleton; Mrs. Anderson, unhappy wife, A. Haaker; Mrs. Plump, president woman's club, E. Carleton; Senora Navarro, Spanish client, B. Bamirez; Wiseman, a business man, S. Tichenor.

Visit the Schools

The mothers of the community should visit the domestic science department of the local high school. There they will find the girls of the school learning things which will be of inestimable value in their later lives. The cooking department is fitted out with all of the latest appliances and daily, dainties and substantials are made and cooked by the pupils. The cooking end is not the only one attended to as careful instruction is given in food values, in matters of home economy and in the value of keeping things clean.

The sewing department is also giving practical lessons in sewing, dress-making and millinery and when a student has finished a thorough course she will be well fitted for keeping a house.

Tannery Fire Department

In order to increase the efficiency of the fire protection system at the Frank tannery, two hose companies have been formed from among the employes and drills will be held twice each week, the signal to the men being one short blast on the whistle. When the signal is heard by the local department it will understand its meaning. Should there be a fire at the tannery the regular signal of 1-2, 1-2, 1-2, will be given.
